Hey Avinash,

I'm glad you liked the gifts and thank you for such a heartfelt response! As you said, the Leafs had quite an amazing game yesterday too!

We wanted to make sure you knew how much you were appreciated throughout this school year! I would be happy and grateful to learn from you again next semester (looking forward to Pharmacology) and hope you also have a relaxing summer until then!

Sincerely,
Kaviyah

Subject: Thank you!

Hi Kaviyah,

Good morning. I cannot express how much your gifts means to me. When I opened the diary and saw your message, I was touched. It's not often that someone, let alone an instructor, receives such a personalized and thoughtful gift, and it means the world to me.

Your words of appreciation are what keep me going as a teacher. They are undeserved but I will graciously accept them. Thank you for letting me play a small role in your learning journey. I am very proud of you! You are the one who put in the sweat and tears into all the hard work in all your nursing courses every day throughout these last two semesters. My role was very minor.

I am also certain that your gifts are what enabled the Leafs to win yesterday. That was the icing on the cake! Go Leafs Go! Thank you for indulging me in my and my kids' hockey fantasies. 😊

Thank you again, from the bottom of my heart, for your generosity and thoughtfulness. I am truly blessed to have had a chance to get to know you as a student. You are a wonderful student, and, in due course, I am certain that you will become a fabulous RN and make a difference in the lives of many people.

Please do stay in touch. We have three more years to go and I really do want to stay part of your nursing school journey (perhaps in Pharmacology in Year 2?). The best part of being a teacher is watching a student grow and develop not just academically but as an all-round nursing student who is empathetic, caring, and dedicated. You are well on your way towards that goal. I hope you will be able to stop by soon so that I can thank you in person. Hope you have a wonderful summer and come back refreshed and recharged! Do take care.

Sincerely and with great appreciation,
Avinash
