| The professor supported my learning by providing ample resources and being kind, patient, respectful, and accommodating. I especially found the practice questions, exam reviews, extremely helpful for learning and preparing for the exams.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |

| It is evident that Avinash cares and wants his students to succeed. He provides several resources such as learning outcomes, class slides and regular slides, labeled diagrams, narrated videos to better understand course content, practice quizzes and exams, terms to know etc. He will always provide clear outlines, resources and never leave you confused of what will be on the exam. He is kind to approach and answers questions asked. His classes are engaging and he is a very highly talked about teacher.                                             |
| Providing visual support with in class lessons alongside detailed video recordings of his lessons that allow me to go back and review any topics I had missed or did not comprehend completely.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |

| Being very knowledgeable in the course material, approachable and personable.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Taking the time to provide an effective blackboard shell. Blackboard is organized, easy to navigate, and contains relevant content. Having practice quiz's for each unit/chapter help me understand what I know and where I need to improve. The class slides are not overloaded with information. Summary notes provide additional help for studying and learning the material. Avinash is organized! and from my experience so far, with other classes this semester, a poorly organized blackboard shell and overly crowded ppt slides make it difficult to learn. |
| Being supportive and approachable with any issues. Avinash shows he cares about each student and aims to help everyone not only understand the material but to feel supported in our education journey.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| He graded fairly and was prompt in his marking. The practice quizzes and midterms/exams are extremely helpful for studying, thank you!                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Avinash is always able to answer my questions about course content, and he is always willing to spend some time to help me understand a concept that I am struggling with. He is incredibly knowledgeable and keeps the class up-to-date with current research.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |

| I am very grateful and satisfied with the way professor supports the students, therefore, I do not have any further suggestions.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |

| Updating handwritten notes published so that they have increased legibility, as it can be hard at times to fully read some sentences which causes difficulty in fully comprehending the content.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| – Use more interactive slides, videos, live case studies to help with delivery of certain content that is heavier and more difficult (to have numerous ways of explaining the same thing, to aid student understanding), rather than heavy emphasis on lecture teaching.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| I honestly think Avinash is a great professor. I honestly can't think of anything he could be doing better.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| He already supports student learning extremely well.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| I think Avinash is a great guy and is very knowledgeable in this course. But I think he is too advanced for first year nursing students. There were many times in class when he would tell us that we wouldn't need to know a certain topic and that it was too complicated but then he went on to talk about it for a long time, and it was not content in the learning outcomes. I did not go away from classes feeling like I understood the lecture and had to reteach myself almost every unit. I had a different professor in first semester (Tania Killian) for A&P1 and felt like I was lost this whole semester as opposed to last semester where Tania would connect A&P directly to the nursing world and make it make sense. I know Avinash is not a healthcare provider, specifically a nurse, so this can impact the connections that could be made. A&P is such a vital class and it should help with other classes such as pathophysiology. If I haven't been taught A&P, how the body works, in a way that I can understand it, I cannot understand the pathophysiology, how the body fails/doesn't work properly. |

What recommendation(s) would you make to improve this course?

| I have no recommendations at this time, it was an excellent experience for me in this course and i would not change a thing.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Space it out a bit more, too much content in the course to cover                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>– Allowing for a little more time to be spent on certain heavier course content, with more learning objectives. | Nothing.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Extend the semester time by a week or give 2 class times for learning the concepts.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
